

Song 2. Cool to be a Worm

By John Jacobson and John Higgins

It's so cool! It's so cool to be a worm.
Pick me up, tickle me, and just watch me squirm.
I can wiggle way down low, but I think I'm a cut above.
A worm is a critter that ev'rybody can love.
A worm is a critter that ev'rybody can love.

I've got no eyes, and no legs, and no arms,
But it's all a part of my many charms.
If dirt in your garden is hard in the ground,
I'll just spend my days mixin' it 'round and around and around!

It's so cool! It's so cool to be a worm.
Pick me up, tickle me, and just watch me squirm.
I can wiggle way down low, but I think I'm a cut above.
A worm is a critter that ev'rybody can love.
A worm is a critter that ev'rybody can love.

I've got no nose, and no hint of a chin,
So it's good that I can breathe through my skin.
I always say bein' a worm is so great.
If I break in two, I just regenerate.

Worm 1: Let's kick it up a notch!
Worm 2: Hey, worms don't kick, remember?
Worm 1: Right ... OK, let's just sing it up a step!

It's so cool! It's so cool to be a worm.
Pick me up, tickle me, and just watch me squirm.
I can wiggle way down low, but I think I'm a cut above.
A worm is a critter that ev'rybody can love.
A worm is a critter that ev'rybody can love. AHH ...
