Mouse 5: August, do you know why the snake couldn't talk?

Mouse 6: He had a FROG in his throat! (squeaky laughter)

Lilli, What kind of snakes are found on cars?

Mouse 5: Windshield VIPERS! (squeaky laughter)

Snake 5: Sssssso ssssssiilllly, little micccceeeeee. Better watch out, did you know ssssnakes are carnivores? We eat MEAT!

Snake 6: We snakes don't have eyelids. That's why our eyes are NEVER closed in family pictures! Cheese!

Snake 7: When you see us snakes charmed by snake charmers, it's because we like their movement but not the sound. Those guys really need to practice more!

Snake 8: Speaking of sound, we snakes are wonderful musicians. We are just COVERED in scales! We shed them a couple of times a year and grow new scales. I think I'll try G Major next!

Snake 9: We can hear through ears that are on our inside, not on our outsides. Snakes also smell with their tongues.

Child 9: So I guess, snakes are good, 'cause they eat mice and rats. But look out, everybody! Here come the bats!

(All bats enter, flapping their wings and darting around. Suddenly, the bats stop)

Bat 1: Whoa! Who turned on the lights? Don't you know I only work nights?

Bat 2: When the sun comes up, I sleep in the gutter. Or sometimes behind your window shutter.

Bat 3: Bats like us can really go far. Especially when we use our best sonar. We call it echolocation!

Bat 4: Look guys, I'm starving and losing my power. I've got to eat 300 bugs an hour!

Bat 5: Yeah! Let's get flying. It's almost morning. The sun will come up without any warning.

Bat 6: We may make people squirm, but a bat is a GOOD thing.

Bat 7: Especially a bat who is willing to sing.

ALL: SING?

Bat 7: This IS a musical, remember?

All: Oh, yeah!

Bat 7: Hit it, Maestro!

SONG 5: GIVE A BAT A CALL

(During song)

Bat 1: Okay! Batter up!

Bat 2: (scratching head) Batter up?

Bat 1: Yeah! Get it? We're BATS. BAT-ter up.... gets it? (Bat 2 just shrugs)

Bat 3: Hey, Buster Bat, what is the first thing bats learn in school?

Bat 4: Ok, Beulah Bat. What IS the first thing that bats learn in school?

Bat 3: The Alpha-BAT!

All: Groan!
